

- Test each eye separately. Cover the eye that you are not using.
- Keep the grid at a normal reading distance—about 14 inches away.
- Look directly at the dot in the center of the grid.
- If you normally wear a glasses, keep them on while looking at the grid.

If you notice blurry or wavy lines, and dark or blank spots, contact your ophthalmologist as soon as possible.